

BOLD LEADERS™

Leader as Coach

Leader as Coach is an executive leadership development group coaching program designed for long-term success, behavior change, and growth.

This is not your traditional one-size-fits-all leadership development. We will scale up or down to meet your organization's needs, and we manage the entire process (we mean everything). In this 39-week program, we use scaffolding practices to ensure participants bridge the gap between what they know and what they're learning – topics are broken down into digestible sections that build over the course into multilayered concepts. We engage individuals where they are and learning is applied in real-time to effectively develop lasting habits and thought patterns.

Our coaching method

Most leadership development programs fail because they focus on acquisition of knowledge rather than skills and habits.<sup>1</sup> We do things differently. By utilizing the neuroscience of Learn, Reflect, Coach (LRC), our participants retain skills and develop consistent behaviors.

The Bold Font Effect™

The strength of your company culture depends on the relationships your leaders build with each other and their teams. That's why each of our courses begins with Lead with Self. In order to lead others, build relationships, create culture, and establish structures, we first have to look inward and deepen our personal awareness.

This scaffolded structure results in an accelerated learning process with high retention, strong “muscle memory” for new skills, and an environment primed for new neural pathways.

Program details

Timing | 40 hours over 9 months, 1 hour/week

We know that application and repetition over an extended period of time are key to developing new neural pathways that turn leadership skills into behaviors that are second nature. That's why Leader as Coach is one hour per week for 39 weeks.

Pricing | $5,265 per participant

Unlike costly traditional leadership development, investing in a leader through Leader as Coach is just $135 per week. Your leadership will leave with lasting results, equipped to retain talent and meet or exceed organizational goals.
